Local Red Cross Soc. Hold Annual Meeting

There was a real good crowd at the annual meeting of the local Red Cross branch which was held in the Town Hall last week, and enthusiasm for the work of this organization ran high.

In opening the meeting, Mrs. O. R. Hannah, the president, gave a splendid report of the year's work, and spoke of the joy of being able to show in a concrete form our appreciation to those who preserve our freedom; especially as our work is done in safety and comfort while there is in danger and suffering!

She closed her remarks with the following very timely homily:—"Let us not forget that it is our duty to keep up this work, so that not a single man, woman or child will suffer unduly so long as the Red Cross can get to them and relieve their suffering and want."

Other reports given all marked the success which has been achieved during the past year, and Mrs. Lally, convener of the Work Committee pointed out that no less than 126 individuals and 14 groups had all laboured faithfully in order to make the 1299 garments which had been shipped from this branch to headquarters during 1942. These articles had been included in four shipments, and were 888 pieces for the armed services, and 411 for refugees or evacuees.

The groups who had given this assistance throughout the year included S.S. Red Cross, War Service League, (both Wainwright and Greenfield), White Cloud school, Rose Willow W. L. Wainwright W. L. Mrs. Snyder's "Teen-age Girls' Group, Heath school, Gilt Edge Welfare Club, Sisters of St. Joseph, Fabian Sew-and-So Club, Wainwright L.O.B.A., Wainwright Patriotic Service Club, and Sligo school.

Special mention was made of the fact that Miss Merrick had made and donated no less than 11 quilts in 1942 while Miss Wood, who is unfortunately suffering from blindness, had knitted some 42 pairs of socks during the year.

Mrs. Middlemas, the treasurer, then gave her report as shown in another column.

Interpreted with the reports and statistics, a couple of well delivered talks were enjoyed; these being "What the Red Cross Means to Britain," given by Mrs. L. Bralant, and "The aerial bombardment of Liverpool, England," given by Engineer N. Ricker of the merchant marine, and as both of these speakers were giving actual personal experiences, they were listened to with rapt attention, and brought the horrors of war may be just a little closer to their listeners.

Practically no dissensions met the "gavel-wielder" as he sought nominations for the various offices to be filled for the ensuing year, and the final slate was adopted as follows:— Pres.—Mrs. O. R. Hannah Vice-pres.—Mrs. J. G. Clark Sec.—Mrs. W. E. Washburn Treas.—Mrs. J. G. Middlemas

Teachers give Statement Re. Salary Situation

Mr. M. D. Meade, principal of the high school and chairman of the teachers' salary negotiating committee, has submitted the following statement to "The Star".

In the last issue of The Star the trustees of the public school published a statement regarding the salaries paid to the members of its staff. Now, while I have no intention whatever of entering into a controversy—via the columns of the press—as to the merits or demerits of the salary situation of the Wainwright teachers (this being a matter for the regular or annual meeting of the Board), there are several comments which I feel I must make:

1. So far as I know, it was I who first suggested that the ratepayers should be informed that salary schedule negotiations between the Board and the teachers' Representatives had reached an apparent impasse.

2. The teachers deplore exceedingly the undertone of animus which the Board allowed to creep into its published statement.

3. The second last paragraph of the Board's declaration stated that the teachers "demanded" a 10 percent cost-of-living bonus on their present salaries. The teachers did nothing of the kind. What they suggested was a 10 percent cost-of-living bonus to be added to their basic salary rates—such bonus in no case to exceed one hundred dollars per year for any one teacher. The Board's statement gives the impression that the teachers requested an over-all increment of 1080 dollars, when, as a matter of fact, what was asked was much less than this amount.

4. In connection with the paragraph referred to above, the Board stated that the teachers "demanded" this bonus. Actually, this was merely a suggestion put forward by the teachers as an alternative to various other negotiation suggestions which had not been favorably received by the Board. The Board refused to discuss this cost-of-living bonus, claiming that any further proposals that the teachers wished to make would have to be submitted first to the Alberta School Trustees' Association for its opinion.

As I have stated above, it is the desire of the teachers that this whole question be treated objectively—that there be "more light and less heat".

(Signed)
M. D. MEADE, chairman, Teachers' Salary Negotiating Committee.

FARMERS TO REGISTER AS BUTTER PRODUCERS

Local Ration Boards in each district are entitled to register farmers as butter producers, according to the rationing administration of Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Farmers are expected to register as butter producers whether they sell all their butter, just part of it, or consume it all themselves.

Farmers who sell butter made on the farm, either direct to consumer customers, or to retail stores, must collect the proper number of coupons for these sales, according to rationing rules.

Annual Congregational Meeting at St. Andrew's

The moderator, Rev. H. L. Wilson, acted as chairman at the annual meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's (Pres.) church on January 11th, when there was a good attendance. Mr. H. A. Koch was appointed secretary of the meeting.

Reports were received from every organization in the church and these showed that interest is being strongly maintained and that they are prospering.

Particularly fine reports were given on behalf of the Sunday school, the Ladies' Guild, and the Board of Managers, these three organizations reporting that all accounts had been paid and that each had a substantial surplus of funds on hand.

Mr. F. E. Dixon, clerk of the Session, reported on the spiritual state of the congregation, and stated that attendances and membership are steadily increasing. Sunday school had been conducted each Sunday in 1942, as well as prayer meeting every week.

The minister was able to report that, for the first time since church union in 1925, the congregation is almost ready to increase its status to that of an augmented charge.

The following were elected to the Board of Managers: Messrs. J. J. Patterson and F. Sheffield for three years and A. H. Lally for two years. The meeting closed with the singing of "O God of Bethel" and prayer, after which the members of the Ladies' Guild served refreshments.

FOUR RULES FOR

THE HOME FRONT

Ottawa.—Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board urges women to observe four rules in their line of service on the home front. These rules are: 1, keep the cost of living stabilized; 2, buying only what you need; 3, eliminate waste; 4, conserve what you have.

"It is the people of Canada who have made price control work; it is the consumer—and that means every one—who must take active measures to prevent inflation and to guard supplies," the chairman stated.

Moved by Mr. Sutherland that the Pay Sheets as presented be passed for payment in the sum total of $169.48.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Sutherland that the monthly Financial Statement as presented by the Secretary be incorporated in the minutes.—Carried.

Regarding our resolution of last meeting to the Minister of Municipal Affairs as to the appointment of a Secretary and a Treasurer, a reply had been received noting the favourable consideration of this resolution by the Department.

Reeve Sutherland reported that Miss Marion Long is now employed as stenographer.

A resolution was received from the Edgerton Board of Trade endorsed by the McAfferty U.F.A., regarding the removal of snow from district roads.

Moved by Mr. Archibald that the Edgerton Board of Trade and the McAfferty U.F.A. be advised that much as we appreciate their suggestions, as we have no snow moving equipment, their suggestion would be impractical.—Carried.

Re. Roadway on Section 32 and 33-43-4 With. This matter was tabled for investigation.

Moved by Mr. Sutherland that the amount of $2.50 be paid to Mr. Don Pawsey as rent for land occupied by the former M.D. of Vale office.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Sutherland that Mr. T. W. Young be appointed caretaker of the Ribstone cemetery for the year 1943 and that his account in the amount of $10.00 for services rendered in 1942 be passed for payment. Further, that the Secretary write to Mr. Young regarding his agreement and duties.—Carried.

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 20th, 1943

THE TOWN'S ANNUAL MEETING

Each year as the financial year of towns and villages comes to an end it is noticeable in the press of the province, and particularly the weekly press that complaints are being made over the indifference of citizens to show enough interest in the affairs of their communities to attend the annual meetings.This has been a sore point in Wainwright for many years, and the fact that the citizens here are no worse in that respect than those in other communities is poor consolation to those who accept the responsibility for conducting the town's affairs.By law the councillors and school trustees are compelled to hold a public meeting and give an account of their stewardship. There is no law to say that the ratepayers shall attend such a meeting. Evidently when the law was framed it was taken for granted that the average person would be sufficiently interested in his own affairs to take the trouble to attend. It is true that these community business sessions are not entertaining.
They are not intended to be so. Perhaps if they were funny or there was some prospect of seeing someone being placed on the municipal carpet, more people would attend. This being the case it makes all the more deplorable that an account of honesty and integrity should be considered too mundane for consideration and time.The town meeting is one of the basic principals of democracy. The opposite of that is for a group of individuals to take control and carry on in any way they see fit without any regard for the feelings or interest of the individual citizen. We are paying a heavy price to prevent just that sort of government being handed to us and at the same time refusing to take the trouble to make the other kind of government, the kind we say we want, worthy of our attention.

FLOUR SACKS MAY RETURN FORMER STATUS

Canadian women may have to resort to the materials of the pioneers for their curtains; to the good old flour sacks which served such a multitudinous number of purposes in the good old days.In a recent order the Wartime Prices and Trade Board limits the manufacture and sale of window curtains to three types. Saving of basic materials, sewing thread and cotton is the object of the order.Types of curtains which may be manufactured are cottage sets, frill-ed or tailored but minus trimmings, straight tailored curtains, hemmed on both sides, top and bottom; frilled curtains of any width up to and including 53 inches per single curtain.

Watch Legislation For Alberta House

Now that the next session of the Alberta legislature has been called to open Feb. 15, the Alberta Motor Association is preparing to give special attention to legislation that may be of particular interest to motorists.The government's legislative program has not yet been disclosed.
Nevertheless, it is likely that certain amendments to the Motor Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act will be proposed, though a consolidation and revision of statutes last year should reduce legislative amendments to a minimum this session.One suggestion which the A.M.A. will make is that the act be amended to eliminate all damage claims against the owner or driver of a car in respect of injury to any passenger, other than a car operated for hire or gain. When private car owners are aiding in conservation measures and the war effort by sharing their car with neighbors, it is believed that they are entitled to protection against damage claims.The A.M.A. also has asked the government to print for public use in one publication all orders-in-council or regulations made under the authority of the Motor Vehicles Act.

French Children Outwit Nazis

The quick action of half a dozen

Recently in Eastern Canada I was quite close to a town where 13,000 men working on important war works in a quite illegal manner struck work for a week for a trivial cause.

I was shocked to see how little these workers seemed to realize the dangers of the lives of our soldiers in battle through a possible lack of the precious munitions they were making. I could not help but think of the different attitude of our farmers toward the war. Farmers, I reminded these industrial workers

The Bomber Press in England

THE IMPORTANCE OF
AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS
(Article No. 35)
By Walter K. Legge

One does not have to stay in England very long before the importance of A.R.P. or C.P.C. work is seen, and we Canadians become quickly convinced that much more serious attention to these precautions should be given in Canada.

Much of the work of the Army which we saw was in the form of demonstrations, but we had an opportunity to study A.R.P. work in actual practice over there.

We came back to our headquarters one afternoon to learn that a short time before, some raiders had come over the vicinity and had caused considerable damage to a very large apartment hotel. Four of our party including myself went down to see just what had happened.

We found that the building which had been struck was a tremendously large apartment house, nine stories in height, much larger than an ordinary street block, with a large projecting L at each end. There were probably a hundred or more apartments of three or four rooms each in the building, which was a comparatively new fireproof block, largely of cement and stone construction. It was a building which would not easily be damaged.

The bomb had landed directly in front of the centre of the building only a few feet from the wall in the courtyard formed by the three walls of the building.

As there had been some casualties, considerable damage to the building, and as the construction was comparable to the heavier type of building here in Canada, it was an ideal situation for us to study from the standpoint of what would be necessary in Canada to cope with raid damage.

Workers Soon on the Job

The first thing that struck us was the tremendous activity all over the place. Although it was only a few hours after the bomb had struck, there were hundreds of men at work at top speed.

Police and guards kept all except workers from going close to the building, and as we were intensely interested in their organization, which we wanted to study with the idea of telling to the people of Canada, we presented our credentials and asked permission to enter. Here as everywhere else in England, we were received with the greatest courtesy and conducted to the chief officer of the local A.R.P.

His organization was working smoothly and efficiently, and he personally took us around, introducing us to the heads of the various sections, and explaining what they were doing and how they carried out their duties.

He also took us through a part of the building, (it would have taken too long to go through it all), to see what the effect of such a bombing was.

In the event of a bombing causing such damage, two things are started at once, looking after casualties, and summoning the members of the A.R.P. They use what is known as the spoolball system to summon the members, that is, each man has to call four others. In this way all the members are very quickly notified.

Setting Up Organization

As soon as all casualties are removed, the first thing is to set up a main office known as the A.R.P. Liaison office, which keeps in close touch with everything that is going on. In this case, the office of the building made an ideal location, but where such a room is not available, the nearest suitable place is taken. The office work is broken down so that there is a section looking after each activity.

All this is done almost in a little time as it takes to tell about it.

Then an intensive search of the building is made with the double purpose of ascertaining if there are any trapped persons, and to study if the building can be repaired and what it will require to do this. At the same time any bodies not previously removed are then taken away.

Another group is taking rapid steps to salvage anything that can be saved by quick work, and this is followed by a more leisurely effort to salvage everything possible.

Transportation must be arranged as required.

Other groups are arranging for food, providing money where necessary to the unfortunate victims, and a housing department finds accommodation for the bombed out people if they have no other place to go.

If, as it was in this case, it is possible to repair the building, contractors and workmen are called to start work without delay. Otherwise the debris is more or less cleaned up and replacement postponed until after the war.

All these various groups were on the job at once and carrying out their tasks as if it were everyday routine.

On the street in front of the building was a canteen truck which bore on its sides a sign showing that it had been presented to the Lord Mayor's Fund by Ford Victoria, Southern Rhodesia.

In the courtyard were a number of men sweeping the grass. One of our party called attention to them remarking that there was an example of typical British efficiency, to which our guide replied, "That is something that is absolutely necessary. Those men have already recovered two valuable rings and a cigarette case."

We were told that the action of a bomb is about as unpredictable as that of a stroke of lightning, and frequently the explosion will suck all small articles right out of a building.

Another important detail which must be carried out at once, is to test the walls and buildings to make sure that they will not fall on workers.

Trained Workers Required

It will be seen that many of these details require trained men, and it was not surprising to find that our guide in private life was a building contractor.

Even by the time we got there, workers were already preparing to make repairs, and were chipping out the remains of broken windows, and window glass was arriving to replace necessary windows.

One essential thing is that yardens know all the people in their territory and that they account for them to make sure that nobody is missing.

Compensation Described

In regard to compensation, the Hon. Herbert Morrison, Minister of War Services, told us that victims are given clothes and, if necessary, some money to carry on. If their home is so damaged that they cannot use it, they are billeted. However, real compensation is not given until the end of the war. New houses could not be supplied now anyway, on account of shortage of materials.

If a house can be repaired easily, or if temporary repairs will enable it to be used, the cost is sometimes allowed, but this will be deducted from any further settlement.

The organization known in Canada as Civilian Protection Committee, or Air Raid Precaution or A.R.P. is now called "Civil Defence" in England and is considered most important work. As Mr. Morrison told us, it is now a major act of war, so local authority is not enough.

The studies made of this work and its results are of great benefit to others.

Quick communication is necessary, and as the telephones are state owned there is full co-operation, but more than that is necessary—the telephones might very possibly be put out of action. Therefore a system of messengers must be provided for.

Sabotage has been surprisingly little, so we are informed, and theft or taking advantage of another's misfortune is practically unknown.

Early Efforts Important

One thing should be impressed upon the people of Canada, and that is that much of the early damage by raiders could have been prevented if proper precautions had been taken before the raids began, and if the organization had been perfected in advance. That is to say, much damage was caused by fires which got out of hand because there were not enough properly trained fire fighters to deal with the emergency when it arose.

The time for Canadians to prepare for such emergencies is now, not after some city has suffered a bad raid.

In the same way that the telephones might be interrupted, the water mains may be destroyed with disastrous effect. Therefore provision has been made in every community in England to have plenty of water in storage.

Thousands of basements of buildings that have been destroyed are being used for this purpose. These basements have been cleaned out, cemented on the walls and bottom so that they will hold and have been filled with water. We saw many of these, and also other great storage tanks ready for an emergency.

Large signs are posted indicating where water is to be found. This is necessary so that in the excitement and confusion of an emergency the nearest storage of water is located without delay.

While all other direction signs in England are entirely lacking, even the smallest community has no end of signs indicating where the warden lives, or can be found, where static water is stored, where air raid shelters are located, and the location of stirrup pumps. Probably there are more signs in England reading "Stirrup Pump here" than any other.

In addition to working hard at regular war work, nearly every man in England has to take his share in Civil Defence work.

Women Workers

While we were in England, Mr. Herbert Morrison issued an appeal for a very large number of women to volunteer for work as fire watchers. This means night work patrolling buildings, climbing on roofs and other hard work. There was a great deal of criticism of this appeal because it was felt that it was not fit work for women, that it was too hard and too dangerous. The answer to this criticism was that twice as many women volunteered for this work than was asked for.

When you look over the roofs of English cities, the first thing that strikes you are chimney pots. Every building has a battery of anywhere up to a dozen or more of these pots. The roofs are generally more cut up with all kinds of turrets than is the case in Canada, and with these chimney pots it makes the roofs hard to get at and hard to patrol. Ladders are usually kept on them so that any part of the roof can be quickly reached. This work is most important during raids, and the proper control of incendiaries on these roofs just means the difference between damage and staggering losses.

In the parish magazine of St. Mary Redcliffe Church, Bristol, the church which Queen Elizabeth in 1574 described as being the "fairest, goodliest and most famous Parish church in England." I read this appeal "Without question the greatest material treasure in Bristol is St. Mary Redcliffe Church. I now ask the women of Bristol if they will help to guard it against fire. We want two, at least, and three better still, to be on duty every night. Women between 17 and 50 will be welcomed, and if you arrange with a friend or friends to take one night a week, you will be doing great service. Now is the time to strengthen our band of watchers before the winter begins."

Some say that the reason there have been so many churches destroyed in England is due to the difficulty in protecting these roofs from incendiaries. It seems to be very difficult work to ask women to do, yet they are cheerfully responding to the appeals. And remember, that in all probability, the women who take on this work, will do it in addition to working at their regular occupation every day.

The first great fire of London was in 1666, the second one was in 1940.

Every able bodied man available and every piece of fire fighting equipment which could be brought in London was engaged in trying to overcome the flames. I am told by people who were there that men worked until they dropped from exhaustion, and that engineers ran until their bearings were burnt out. I have even heard it said that if the German Raiders had come back one more succeeding night, the whole city would have gone as the men and equipment could not have carried on any longer.

Raiders Not Over

The people of England now seem to think that the worst is over, that such raids cannot happen again. They are encouraged in this belief by the fact that the defences are so much better than they were, that there are more and better planes for defence, that there are many more balloons, that the ack-ack is stronger and better, that the A.R.P. is much better organized and more effective. The Hon. Mr. Morrison told us that there are now 1450 fire companies merged into the National Fire Service.

Authorities however, hold a different view. They are warning the people that increased heavier raids are not only possible but very probable. Some authorities say that the recent months have only been a lull in which Germany has been tooling up in order to unleash heavier bombs on England more after the block busting type.

At the same time it is believed that before long Canada will have German bombs dropping on her, that at the same time that Germany is tooling up for heavier raids on England that she is making preparations to send planes capable of longer cruising range that will enable her to bomb America.

Therefore we should take steps to prepare for such eventualities, we should take a lesson from England's experiences and organize a most efficient C.P.C.

For this action, he and a fellow officer, also a "mountie", were decorated by King Haakon with the Royal Norwegian War Medal for Gallantry.

The busy shipyard, employing 300 women and 1,000 men, was built on a deserted marsh. Within eight months the yard was completed and had launched two ships, nearly finished a third. The women shipbuilders in Pictou range from grandmothers to youngsters in their teens.

EDGERTON

The United Church held their Church Meeting Monday, January 11th, at the Mense.

Mrs. Sid Pawsey and Ernestine Wallis were visitors to the city.

Mrs. Norman McDonald is at her old home, having been called there on account of her father's sickness.

Mrs. Ruth MacLennan accompanied by Phil Pawsey and Kevin Wolff returned to the city Tuesday, 12th. We understand Phil has gone up to Fairview to drive one of Norman Miles' grave trucks. Norman has two trucks up there.

The Wainwright Deanery meeting was held at Wainwright Tuesday, January 12th. The Rev. A. A. Court accompanied by six ladies from this parish attended. The Bishop was also down from Edmonton for the occasion.

Tom Shaw was a business visitor to the city during last week.

We were fortunate in having three carloads of coal in town last week, especially in view of the very severe weather, which has undoubtedly been the worst days of this winter.

Geoff Miles had the misfortune to overturn his truck on the road south of town which had become a veritable skating rink in parts. Fortunately, very little damage was done and no one hurt.

Mr. Don Pawsey left Thursday for Amisk where he has gone as Secretary-Treasurer for the Huamba M.D.

Mrs. Earl Hallett has returned from the coast where she went just before Christmas.

Friday was the worst day so far, in fact so bad that the Mail Carrier did not go. That in itself is a good gauge of the day.

The Annual Meeting of the Edgerton School District was held Saturday, January 10th. There was not a large attendance. A good report of the year's work was given and the financial end of it was very gratifying. Mr. Alf Challenger was the retiring trustee and declined the nomination for a further term. Mr. L. W. Darby was elected to make up the board of three.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Challenger for his good work and management during his trusteeship which he had held for the last 15 years, ten years of which he had been chairman of the board.

Two rinks of Lady Curlers left on Saturday to take part in the Edmonton Bonspiel. They were Mrs. Brown (skip), Mrs. George Sawyer, Mrs. Geoff Miles, and Eileen Pawsey, Mrs. Stratton (skip), Mrs. Paul Spornitz, Mrs. Darby and Mrs. Ron Pawsey.

Roy Evans and his wife returned Saturday to Calgary, after spending his furlough with his mother.

The Victory Wheel draw Saturday resulted in Mrs. Sid Pawsey winning the W.S.C. These draws are held in the Drug Store every Saturday night in the absence of a Picture Show.

The weather for the Aid to Russia Dance was very disappointing as it must have kept many away. It made anybody shudder to think of the men who were doing the fighting in that kind of weather. It is the intention of the Board of Trade to put on another dance in the near future. In the meantime all the returns are not in for the donations promised and tickets sold, but these will be published next week.

Mr. B. Crane of the Edgerton Co-op. was a business visitor to the city.

Mrs. Alf Challenger visited her daughter Jean at Chauvin Thursday.

GREENSHIELDS

The Greenshields Ladies Aid met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. A. Morrison and Mrs. J. Steenson.

Mr. M. Haynes left for a short visit to Biggar and Saskatoon.

BEEF PRIORITY

FOR ARMED FORCES

Ottawa—The five million pounds of beef a month, required for the armed forces are assured by order of the War-time Prices and Trade Board which states that all requirements of beef for the armed services must be met each week before any sales to the public are permitted.

Instructions have been issued to all inspected abattoirs in Canada by the Food Administration of the Board.

Germans Torture

French School Boy

A fourteen year old French boy, released by his Nazi guards, was carried out of the museum in Rouen, recently, battered almost beyond recognition.

The report, published in the French underground newspaper "Combat", and confirmed by the Inter-Allied Committee, stated that the Nazis resorted to medieval torture to force the boy to inform on his father, who was suspected of working with one of the underground newspapers in France.

Arresting the boy, as he was returning from school one day, the Nazis took him to the museum, from which he came out three hours later, bruised, bleeding, and with all his limbs broken.

During the session he had been continually questioned and harried as they tried to force the lad to tell all that he knew concerning his father's activities.

At last, his strength exhausted, almost unconscious, he was forced to admit that his father had the leaflets they wanted for proof in his possession. The father was shot immediately.

NYLON FOR PLUMB LINES

Plumb lines of continuous length nylon monofilament have been adopted by a Pacific coast aircraft manufacturer in the construction of large flying boats. The switch from linen fishing lines to nylon for this purpose was prompted by the advantages of nylon single strand fibres because it does not twist, knot or become affected by salt water and the life of the nylon plumb lines is much longer than the linen line.

R.C.A.F. Women Get New Uniform

The Royal Canadian Air Force (Women's Division) has a new and streamlined version of its trim blue uniform; and as present ones wear out, they will be replaced by this attractive design. Planned and executed by Canada's foremost fashion authorities, it is practical, becoming, and incidentally saves fabric.

Most notable change is the cap—a curving, wide-brimmed model of fabric on felt. The tunic has glimmer lines, false upper pockets and patch pockets below; its back is tailored in one piece, with a detachable belt. Kick-pleat skirts are giving way to a style with six flat gores and plenty of swing to the hemline. The greatcoat, with an inverted pleat and half belt at the back, with its lapels flaring higher, and pockets on a diagonal slant, promises greater warmth as well as flattery.

Color, material, and insignia have not altered their proud Air Force identity. Only one "extra" has been added—a flat shoulder bag of blue leatherette, which, swinging from right shoulder to left side, will more than compensate for the departed pockets.

War-time Research To Benefit Peace

More tangible, scientific progress has been made in the last two decades than in the past two centuries and the benefits to man in providing new occupations and new concepts for living have been and are indispensible, says an article on chemical research entitled "Patience Money" in the December issue of C-I-L Oval.

Because so much of the research being undertaken by the chemical industry at the present time is directly connected with the war production programme of the United Nations, it is readily understandable that little can be said of its many valuable contributions to the development of new materials and processes. But there is an indication of what is going on behind the scenes in the manufacture of synthetic rubber from coal, limestone or petroleum; plastic plywood for aeroplanes and housing; the fixation of nitrogen from the air for explosives and fertilizers among other things, where once we were entirely dependent upon imported natural nitrates; the annual recovery of magnesium from sea water in far greater amounts than the production of the past twenty-four years. The list could be extended—but why gild the lily?

Once again the necessities of warfare, the need for finding new materials, replacement materials and substitute materials for all the diverse requirements of war and for what essential civilian production will remain are intensifying research in many fields, some of it original, but most of it applied to specific needs. Much of this research, says other hand, will be of a basic and lasting character and many important findings and developments will carry over for the benefit of industry and consumers into the days of peace.

WAR-TIME DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP

Be loyal, obey the laws, pay ordinary taxes, provide for self and family, save something for future independence—these are the relatively simple duties of citizenship in peace-time.

But in war-time things are different. Even though he may not have the privilege of joining the armed forces, the citizen has arduous duties, which call on his greatest resources of character, industry and financial means. Added to the normal requirements are the obligations of extraordinary taxes, Victory Bonds and war charities.

So great are the financial duties imposed by war that the citizen must resort to unusual, drastic, systematic, determined saving to meet them.

The Bank of Montreal offers you the service of a Special Savings Account, in which you can deposit every pay-day, or other income date, the right proportionate amount to cover your war obligations when due.

As this is written the thermometer registers just 50 degrees below zero (at least that's how the thing is marked) and it's quite a change from last week's pleasant thimble!

Mrs. Lyle and Mrs. Rattray were the hostesses for the meeting of the W.I. which gathered at the home of Mrs. Michon on Thursday last for their regular monthly session.

After opening in prescribed form, with 20 members and one visitor present, the quilt committee reported that $21.20 had been realized from the sale of tickets and that in the drawing for the quilt at the New Year dance, Mrs. P. Patterson had been the lucky winner. Two other quilts had been finished for the Red Cross and two for the Merchant Marine.

Other quilt blocks were nanded in for making up, and also three pairs of knitted socks.

It was reported that 15 boxes had been sent to shut-ins at Christmas, and that letters of thanks had been received for some of these.

Mrs. Chynoweth was the winner of the gift donated by the president, Mrs. Carsell.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. H. Smart and Mrs. Shinnott. This will call for a Valentine verse for the Roll-call.

$40,000 Refunded On Auto Licenses

Motor license refunds to Alberta car owners who turned in their plates by Jan. 10 will exceed $40,000, officials of the provincial secretary's department estimated Saturday.

As the returns are being checked and tabulated, it will be some days before final figures are available.

Under provincial regulations, 20 percent of the annual license fee is to be paid to the license holder upon turning in the plates.

Officials expressed interest Saturday in what effect new federal rationing regulations will have upon the number of applications for car licenses in the new license year which opens April 1. It was stated that there are some 25,000 car owners in the "AA" or non-essential category in Alberta. Many of these may not take out licenses this year.
